About this property

Now let agreed. 8 Mariners Terrace is one of the colour-washed houses that ends up on Porthaven postcards - sky blue render, white sashes, a front door straight onto the lane. Inside: a through sitting and dining room, a galley kitchen opening to a sunny yard, two double bedrooms and a bathroom refitted in 2025.

The house was offered unfurnished at £1,100 pcm and was taken by the second viewing applicant, a local couple who passed referencing inside four working days. Old Town two-beds are the most requested property type on our books, and well-kept examples rarely last a full week on the market.

Landlords with similar houses: we will give you an honest appraisal, not a flattering one, and we will tell you what the permit parking, the EPC and the state of the sashes mean for your achievable rent. Tenants: register your details and tell us your budget - we match registered applicants before listings go public.
